PARK BOARD DISCUSSION.

MR. LANE'S ALLUSIONS TO A LIS. TENING AND SNICKERING CLERK.

Short Dialogue Between Mr. Wales and Mr. Green Concerning the Weather-An Agreement to Discharge Certain Employees "It is very cold here," remarked Commissioner Wales at the meeting of the Park Commissioners yesterday morning. 'Let us go on with the business; we shall have warm times enough before we get through," replied Mr. Green, and he proved to be correct, for, although the thermometer indicated a very low temperature, the members were sufficiently hot tempered.

The trouble began with an effort to secure s temporary Superintendent of Parks, Mr. Green moved that John W. Manning be made general foreman until the appointment of a superintendent. Mr. Lane said that could not be done as there was no such office. Mr. Green said that Manning had occupied the position for years, but was removed for political reasons. Mr. Green's motion was lost, Mr. Lane and Mr. Wales voting against it. Similar result followed attempts to appoint Charles Johnston, Charles Hodges, James McGovern, and Patrick Flanagan. At the suggestion of the name of McGovern by Mr. Conover, Mr. Lane remarked: "Oh, he's a painter, and goes around with a paint pot. I move an amendment that James McGovern, who is a painter amployed by the department, be appointed susmoloyed by the department, be appointed superintendent. Mr. Lane satirically moved that Commissioner Green be appointed Superintendent of Parks, which motion was also lost. Mr. Lane called up the case of Patrick Irving, janitor of the Museum of Naturai History, who, he said, had been discharged by "trick and device" practised by Charles Johnston, the temporary superintendent, There was a good deal of discussion over Irving scase, Mr. Conver intimated that Irving had been absent three days on account of unsteady habits. Mr. Lane defended Irving, who, he said, was absent only two days, sick. Mr. Green was hastening the vote when Mr. Wales said:

"Walt; we were discussing it around here."

"I did not hear it," said Mr. Green. The discussion did not get quite around."

After further bickering the motion to refer Irving's case to a committee for investigation was lost, and Mr. Lane remarked to Mr. Green.

"This man was discharged by trick and device: I will have a chance to vote down some of your resolutions."

Mr. Lane then said that at the last meeting he

Mr. Lane then said that at the last meeting he had noticed some of the clerks of the department in the room listening to the debates. One of these clerks was Mr. Van Valkenberg, who was peeking in the door, listening and snickering at the proceedings. Probably Van Valkenberg was yet sneaking about the door and getting $3,000 for listening. He had met Van Valkenberg at the Board of Apportionment meeting, and said if that clerk had no better business, his saiary ought at least to be cut down from $3,000 to $1,000 per year. Other clerks were hanging around the Board meetings and carrying news, and he thought they ought to be discharged for listening instead of attending to their duties.

Have you any motion to make?" interrupted Mr. Green grimly. "If you have not you are out of order in making a speech. Perhaps I am out of order myself, but I will say that I told Mr. Van Valkenberg to be here, as he is the only person capable of giving the information required by the Board of Apportionment."

"If the Chairman admits himself to be incompetent to perform his duties, and is obliged to get Mr. Van Valkenberg in his place."

"Is there any other business?" said Mr. Green, sternly.

Then Mr. Wales presented his long-promised report on the personnel of the department. He read reasons for dismissing some employees and retaining others. Appended to his report was a dissenting clause prepared by Mr. Lane, who objected to a proposed abolishment of the third division of the Central Park.

Mr. Green suggested that the questions of the report should be divided; that as all the Commissioners were probably in favor of adopting portions of the report, and of dismissing certain men, it would be best to take the question of the question, and wanted a vote on the report is hould be best to take the question of the question and vote separately on the names proposed for admission. The Board then discussed the proposition to abolis be buildozed into voting any way. It is an extraordinary exercise of power on the part of the Chair."

Mr. Green—If he wishes to vote to—
Mr. Lane—I rise to a point of order. During the calling of the roll no decate is in order. I lusist on the calling of the roll.

Mr. Conover—I am opposed to that part of the report that abolishes the third division—
Mr. Lane—I rise to a point of order.

Mr. Canever—I will state the question. Mr. Wales moves that the report signed by him be adopted. Mr. Lane moves to amend by striking out that part abolishing the third division. A negative vote retains the third division.

Mr. Lane—I am surprised that the Chairman should intimate that Mr. Conover does not understand the question. It is a discourtesy. Mr. Conover votes as his conscience dictates.

Mr. Conover—I wan shoult to explain that—
Mr. Lane—I was about to explain that—
Mr. Lane—I was about to explain that—
Mr. Wales—Oh, let's take the vote over again.
Then the vote was taken, and Mr. Lane's motion was lost—2 to 2. Then the motion to adopt Mr. Wales's report was lost—2 to 2. Then, after further discussion, the Board got back to Mr. Green's former motion to go back and take up the recommendations of the report seriatim, and all the Commissioners agreed to take that course. The proposal to dismiss James Lynch was alid over unanimously, tecause he was not in receipt of salary. John Meighan was dismissed from his position as foreman by a vote of 3 to 1. A motion to dismiss William MeDonald was lest—2 to 2. Cornelius Bliger, emoloyed at the areanal, and John Cahill and Michael Doran, masons, were dismissed by unanimous vote.

Mr. Conover presented a favorable report on the proposition to permit the piacing of a pavilion off the Battery, which was laid over, and the Board adjourned.

Elisha Brewel, a colored waiter, and a friend named James Grahame went from their homes in Astoria, early on Wednesday evening. to attend a wedding in the little colored church in Second avenue, between Eighty-third and drank beer at the bar of Louis Callis, 1,644 Second avenue, and Brewel tendered a twentyfive cent coin, which the saloon keeper said was counterfeit. Brewel said that it was all the money he had. United States Deputy Marshal Pierson, who happened to be present, detained the two men until the arrival of Policeman Henry Allers of the Eighty-eighth street states.

the two men until the arrival of Policeman Henry Allers of the Eighty-eighth street station, who took them into custody.

In the mean time a wedding party gathered in the colored church. The elergyman and the expectant bride, Euphronia Thompson, were on hand, and air that was needed was the presence of the groom, Eigha Brewel, and his rest man, James Grahame. The wedding party waited for more than an hour after the time named for the ecremony, and then dispersed, wondering what had become of the groom and his friend. Miss Thompson went away crying.

Brewel and Grahams were taken from the barroom to the station and locked up for the night. A counterlett coin similar to the one tendered by Brewel was found on Grahame. The prisoners were taken before United States Commissioner. Shields yesterday morning. Brewel wors a full dress suit of broadcioth and a white necktic, Miss Thompson and her mother met the prisoners in the Commissioner's office. As there was no evidence that the prisoners knew that he coins they had were counterleft, they were discharged. Miss Thompson told the Commissioner, on quitting his office with her beforehed, that she would send him when the Same and Same would send him which the Same Same.

CHEF ARSESTAPLE'S TRIALS. Abandoned by his Wife and Reported as

In close proximity to the death notices in one of the newspapers yesterday morning was an announcement to the effect that a certain man was not dead, but living. This man was Peppe Arsestaple, a Spaniard, who three years ago was chief cook at the Hotel Español in this city. He made enough money to enable him to retire. Until that time he had remained a bachelor, but on achieving a competency he married a young French woman who lived with her sister in Second avenue. Arsestaple gave a grand wedding entertainment at the apartments he had chosen for himself and wife in University place, but a few weeks later he accepted the situation of steward on the Havana steamer Saratogs. He left his wife in this city. and each time the steamer returned he visited and each time the steamer returned he visited her and remained with her for two or three days. At the end of a year Arsestaple left the Saratoga and accepted a position as steward on board the steamer Cuba, which was doing a coasting trade in West Indian waters. His wife was still living in this city. Finally the Spanish steward decided to leave the sea altogether. He bought a cosey little home at San Fuegos in Cuba, and sent for his wife to come and units with him in the enjoyment of it. He met his wife at Havana, and the two made the trip together from there to San Fuegos. They lived happily for some time, but Mrs. Arsestaple at length began to excite the jealousy of Mr. Arsestaple, and finally she eloped with another man. Mr. Arsestaple had been sick with the small-pox, but he rallied sufficiently to follow his unfaithful wife as far as Havana. When he arrived there she had just sailed for this city. Arsestaple wished to follow her in the next steamer, but was induced by a physician to remain until the warm weather should set in.

One of the officers of the Havana steamer Niggara, now in port, says that in passing through Havana Mrs. Arsestaple gave it out that her husband was dead, and for that reason he sent word to New York to have the report contradicted. her and remained with her for two or three

A New Hospital for Children. The new St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, at Thirty fourth street and Ninth avenue, was dedicated yesterday afternoon by Bishop Potter. At 20'clock the Sisters of the order assembled in the little chapel and prayers were read by the Risbop, after which he blessed the various wards, and pronounced the hospital dedicated. There was a very large attendance of the clerry and the officers and friends of the institution. The building is of brick, trimmed with light-colored freestone and is four and a half stories tail. It has a frontage of and is four and a half stories tail. It has a frontage of fifty feet on Thirty-fourth street, with a depth of saxty-five feet, and an addition trom the main structure thirty feet long and nineteen feet wide. Through a hand-some portion of caryed stone, with imposive doors of oak and stained glass, a spacious hall is entered, in the centre of which is the main stairway. On the right are the reception room, dinting room, and office, and the other side is occupied by a ward. In the basement are the reception ward, dispensary, drug and store room, kitchen, and laundry. The second story is devoted to the hospital wards, and on the third floor are the Sisters' siceping rooms, lines room, and a becurital little dapel, finished it oak, with windows of stained class. Across the entire front of the fourth story extends the children's play-room. This story also contains an operating room, isolation and services and the children's play-room. This story askends the children's play-room. This story askends the children's play-room. There are accommodations for seventy patients.

Mrs. Margaret Doyle of 407 East Seventeenth treet complained that her son Edward had beaten and abused her cruelly. A warrant was issued in the Yorkville Police Court and given to Court Officer Hartigan to execute. Hartigan went to Doyle's home and sought to arrest him. Doyle knocked Hartigan down and beat him. A policensat whom Hartigan had lett outside came in, and the two subtiged Doyle. Doyle was in his stocking feet, and refused to put on his shoes. In that condition he was taken to the Twenty-second street police station, where aboes were put on him forcibly. He was then handcuffed and taken to court, and Justice Otterbourg committed him to Blackwell's Island for six months.

The bonds are secured by a first mortgage on the er tire railroad equipment, franchises, and other property of the Company acquired and to be acquired, includin d'Oreitle and Missouri Divisional Bonds, to retire which an equal amount of these bonds are to remain in the hands of the trustee.

The bonds are receivable in payment of lands at 110 and interest. The proceeds of all the sales of land mortgaged, after payment of the interest on the bonds, must se applied to the purchase of the bonds, if below 110 and interest: If above that price, the bonds will be drawn by lot for payment at 110 and interest. The bonds so purchased, together with any received in payment for lands, will be held for sinking fund pur able, being at the rate of 12,800 acres per mile in the States and 25,000 in the Territories. The land east of the Missouri River is subject to the right of the Preferred Stockholders to exchange their stock at par for purchase of these lands; but in the event of a default in the payment of the interest on these bonds the security of these lands would revert to the bondholders. The main line of railroad when completed will extend from Lake Superior to two points on the navigable waters of the Pacific Ocean, i. e., Puget Sound, W. T., and about 2,400 miles in length. The branches and connec tions now owned or under lease are 203% miles to length making total line about 2,600 miles.

We are authorized to receive subscriptions for a limited amount (not exceeding $2,000,000) of the capital stock of THE IRON STEAMBOAT COMPANY, n shares of one hundred dollars each. This company is building, and will have in readiness for the coming summer season, a large fleet of iron steam-boats, especially adapted for the requirements of passengers; of great speed, constructed in the most substantia manner, non-combustable, and with numerous water tight compartments, which will render them incapable of sinking. Contrasted with the ordinary wooden steam coats, they cannot fail to command, at highly comtive rates, the patronage of the great majority of the raveling public.

The company has entered into contracts extending ave

a term of years, under which it has acquired the exclu-sive right to convey passengers from New York and its vicinity to the Iron Pier at Coney Island, and a similar exclusive right to convey presengers to Coney Island in connection with one of the leading railroads to that place. In view of the vast number of people who visit this famous summer resort, it is evident that a line of steamboata possessing these exclusive privileges, con-structed in such manner as to command the highest degree of public confidence, and furnished in response to an urgent public demand, must at once prove very profitable.

The contracts already entered into will insure to this company from the outset a business limited only by its capacity, and arrangements are in course of completion with the Eric and Pennsylvania Railroad Companies, under which it will acquire, in addition a large and proftable excursion business. The company will extend its operations as rapidly as exclusive and profitable connec-

Hone can be consummated.

During the winter months it is the intention of the ompany to utilize its boats in Southern waters, so far as they can be profitably employed.

The company is organized under the laws of New Jersey, and subscribers to the stock will incur no liability beyon! the obligation to pay the amount of their sub-we recommend this investment as one promising large returns and well worthy the attention and confidence of the most careful investors.

Each subscriber will receive for every $1,000 of stock allotted and paid for First Mortgage Bonds of the Compa-

my (bearing interest at 6 per cent.) to the amount of $250 The terms of the subscription are as follows:
10 per cent on allotment,
10 per cent. Feb. 2, 1881, 10 per cent. March 2, 1881,

10 per cent. A: ril 2, 1881, 10 per cent. May 2, 1881, and the remainder in installments of not exceeding 10 per cent on twenty days' notice previously given. Re-ceipts will be given for each payment, and the Bonds and Certificates of Stock will be issued upon the payment of the final installment. Subscriptions will be received at the offices of either of MAY & KING, 33 Broad at. JAMESON, SHITH & COTTING, 12 Wall st. SCOTT & LEAVITT, 24 Broad at New York, Dec. 22, 1880.

A 5-1.1NF A DVERTINEMENT inserted one week in 345 howepapers for $10. 100 mags complised tree. GEO. P. ROWELLE & CO., 10 Sprace at, New York THE SUN FOR 1881.

Everybody reads THE SUN. In the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come everybody will find: I. All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of informaion with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eyesight. The Sus long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant ulness and unsatisfactory brevity.

II. Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning Tun Sun prints a continued story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and troubles. This story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that was ever devised.

III. Good writing in every column, and freshness originality, securacy, and decorum in the treatment of every subject.

IV. Honest comment. The Sun's habit is to speak our fearlessly about mon and things. V. Equal candor in dealing with such political party, and equal readiness to commend what is praiseworthy or to rebuke what is blamable is

Democrat or Repulsional. VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering levely to true democratic principles. This Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives na is a good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its atmost power the effects of men in the Republican party to set up another form of government in place of that which exists. The year 1551 and the years immediately folviemerque will probably decide this supremely important contest. The SUS believes that the Rings for monopoly, the Rings for plunder, and the Rings for imperial power.

Our terms are is follows: For the Dally SUS, a cour-page sheet of twenty-sight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; or, inciuding the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also fur-nished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid. The price of THE WELLEY SUN, eight pages. fifty-six columbs, is $1 a year postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free. Advises I. W. ENGLAND.
